Major General Robert Walter Dickson Leslie was born on 31 January 1883 in England and was educated at Hilton College and Michaelhouse, Natal, South Africa. His grandfather was Rear Admiral F L Field CB, CMG, RN, 3rd Sea Lord. He underwent his medical training in Dublin, Ireland qualifying in 1904. Two years later he entered the Royal Army Medical Corps and held the rank of Captain when World War I commenced. In the years from 1917 to 1937 he rose from the rank of Brevet Major to Major General. For his World War I service, towards the end of which he was an Assistant Director of Medical Services (A.D.M.S.) in France, he was mentioned in despatches and appointed an OBE in the King's 1919 Birthday Honours list.

In 1930 he was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel and appointed Deputy Assistant Director of Medical Services (D.A.D.M.S.) in India, a post he held until 1932. He was promoted to Colonel in 1934 and in 1936 was appointed D.D.M.S. in Palestine and Transjordan. Upon his return to the UK he was in command of the Queen Alexandra Military Hospital, Millbank until 1937. In that same year he was promoted to Major General and appointed D.D.M.S., Northern Command, York. On 28 March 1939 he was appointed Honorary Physician to the King (LG 25/4/1939, p2751).

In 1941 he was appointed CB and retired from the Army. During his Army career, Maj Gen Leslie wrote several articles which were published in the Journal of the Royal Army Medical Corps. After he retired from the Army he received an appointment as a hospital officer in the Emergency Medical Service (E.M.S.) and from 1948 to 1954 was employed as a regional medical officer (No.3 region) under the Ministry of Health. For his services to the E.M.S. he was appointed CBE (Civil Division) in the 1946 New Year Honours list. He was also a member of the Council of the British Medical Association from 1942 to 1948 serving on the Naval and Military Committee of the Association from 1944 to 1948 and on the General Medical Council Committee (1946-8) and the Central Medical War Committee (1947-8). He died at his home at East Leake, near Loughborough, Leicestershire on 31 January 1957 aged 74.

Essex James Mardon, sailor, born 14Dec1888 at Brixham, England; awarded Certificate of Competency as Second Mate 26Nov1909; awarded Certificate of Competency as First Mate 15Sep1911; after WWI qualified as a Ship's Pilot and worked for Trinity House; copies of newspaper articles included with lot show him as Captain and Trinity Pilot and also record him as one of the reception officers for the arrival of all yachts at Brixham during the Coronation International Regatta in 1937 and also rescuing a drifting seaplane at Torbay in 1947; Captain Essex Mardon died 27Jul1972 in Hammersmith Hospital, London.

During WWI some of the functions of the Corporation were to buoy shipping lanes and naval operations, move light vessels as well as laying hundreds of other buoys. Then during WW2 Trinity House, for which Captain Essex Mardon was a Pilot, kept sea lanes marked and lighted for Allied convoys as well as guiding ships to their ports under hazardous conditions and during the Dunkirk evacuation a number of pilots helped in guiding vessels to and from the beaches. Then in preparation for the D-Day landings Trinity House pilots laid lighted buoys and two light vessels to indicate a safe route for landing vessels. In the month following D-Day nearly 3,000 vessels were handled by 88 river pilots and close to 2,000 ships were guided by 115 sea pilots.

George James Molle was born at Mains, Chirnside, Berwickshire in 1773, the son of John and Margaret (nee Crow) Mow, established members of Scottish landed gentry. At the request of William Mow, George's eldest brother, the family name was changed to Molle by an Act of Sederunt of the Court of Petty Sessions on 11 August 1789.

In June 1793 George Molle was commissioned as an Ensign in the Scotch Brigade, later the 94th Foot. On 12 May 1794 he was promoted to Lieutenant and on 1 July 1795 to Captain in the army and then on 29 March 1798 Captain in the Scotch Brigade. On 3 September 1803 he became a Major with the 8th Battalion Reserve and on 2 June 1804 he moved to the 9th Foot attaining the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel on 2 September 1808. He was appointed Lieutenant-Colonel of the 46th Foot on 3 June 1813 and on 20 June 1813 he was commissioned as Lieutenant Governor of the Colony of New South Wales. George Molle was appointed brevet Colonel on 4 June 1814.

In 1799 Captain Molle served in the 4th Mysore War with the Scotch Brigade. He was wounded at Seringapatam on 27 April 1799. He was stationed in India and Egypt where he was Aide-de-Camp to General Sir Douglas Baird in 1801-2. In 1803 he returned to England with dispatches from 1st Marquess Wellesley and after a few years he then served against Portugal and was severely wounded on 17 August 1808 at the Battle of Rolicca, the first battle of the Peninsular War. After returning for a short while to England to recuperate he returned to Portugal and took part in the action near Oporto on 28 March 1809.

Molle had become acquainted with Lachlan Macquarie in India and Egypt in 1801-2 when they both served under Major General Baird. They met up again in 1805 on a visit to see General Baird but did not meet again until George Molle arrived in Sydney as commanding officer of the 46th Regiment of Foot to take up his appointment as Lieutenant-Governor of NSW. To honour his appointment a dinner party was held at Government House in Sydney on 28 March 1814 and on that occasion the departing Lieutenant-Governor, Lieutenant-Colonel O'Connell was also toasted.

George Molle and his wife took an active part in the Sydney society becoming patrons of the Female Orphan School and served on the committee of the Institution for the Civilisation, care and education of aborigines. Molle was also a member of the Masonic Lodge of Social and Military Virtues No.227 and participated in the first public Masonic ceremony in Port Jackson on 2 November 1816, namely the laying of the foundation stone of Masonic Brother Captain John Piper's house at Point Eliza, now known as Point Piper.

Unfortunately Molle and Macquarie had a falling out and things between him and his regiment with Macquarie and others such as William Wentworth became quite bitter. Finally Macquarie requested that the 46th Regiment be removed and in August 1817 the 48th Regiment arrived to relieve it. George Molle would later die at Belgaum, India on 9 September 1823. His son, William Macquarie Molle, inherited The Molle's Maines Estate in NSW, a land grant at Currans Hill made to Molle in 1816.

George Molle is remembered by a small stream near the NSW town of Wellington which was named Molle Rivulet in his honour by the Surveyor-General John Oxley in 1817. Also, in Queensland's Whitsunday islands there was a small group named the Molle group, North, South, Mid and West Molle, by Lieutenant Charles Jeffries RN. West Molle was later renamed Daydream Island. The other islands still bear his name.

A SOLDIER'S KINDLY ACTION

In June last, Master Joe Rodda, a pupil at the Gnotuk State School, included a pair of pyjamas in a parcel of comforts sent to the Australian Red Cross Society, and enclosed a note for the recipient. "Joe" is now in receipt of the following letter:-

"Dear Little Joe,-Away in your little bed in Australia you are no doubt dreaming of all our brave soldiers who are fighting for their country at the Dardanelles and you are wondering, perhaps, who would get your very nice little letter in the pyjamas. Well Joe, an old soldier who also fought in the Boer War in South Africa (Private Oliver Francis Miller) received them and has asked me to write and thank you ever so much for your letter and gift. He has little boys of his own in Australia who are waiting for him to return, so you see he thought it fine to get that letter from you. When the war is over he is going to try and get the Kaiser's head for you, and that will be fine, won't it? Well Joe, a soldier has too much to do to be able to write long letters and I now say 'Good Night Joe, and God bless you and bring your uncles safe home again.' With love to you and all your little friends, we remain your soldier friends.-Ernest Lawson and Oliver Francis Miller, on active service at the Dardanelles."

Pte William M. Legh, C Sqn 1 NSW Mounted Rifles confirmed on roll.

The following was published in the Glen Innes Examiner on Monday 31 May 1920, page 2, following the death of William Legh.

LATE MR LEGH - A TRAGIC DEATH.

Profound regret was expressed on all sides on Thursday last when the sad news became known that Mr. William Montagu Legh, of GlenInnes, who was very widely known throughout the whole of the northern districts, had died suddenly. The late Mr. Legh was a son of the late Mr. Christopher Legh, who some years ago owned Glen Legh and Blair Hill stations, and whose family has been well-known in northern New South Wales for the last two generations. Deceased was a prominent figure in Glen Innes for the last 18 years, during which period he practised as a solicitor.

The late Mr. Legh was born at Newstead in 1877, and was educated at the Armidale School. He was subsequently articled to Mr. M. A. H. Fitzhardinge, a Glen Innes solicitor, and later studied law at the Sydney University. During his course of study at the University the Boer war broke out, and deceased volunteered for service with the Mounted Rifles. With that unit he saw service during the whole of the war period, and was decorated with the Queen's and King's medals for conspicuous service in the Wittebergen, Diamond Hill, Johannesburg, Driefontein and Cape Colony raids. At the cessation of hostilities the late Mr. Legh, prior to resuming his study of the law, visited England and the Continent. Having passed his final examination, deceased returned to South Africa, where he suffered a severe attack of malaria fever, which necessitated his return to Australia. The late Mr. Legh then started practice as a solicitor in Glen Innes, where he remained up to the time of his death at the comparatively early age of 43 years.

Up till last year the late Mr. Legh evinced a practical interest in all public matters, but the death of his brother under tragic circumstances some 12 months ago was a severe blow to him, and the destruction of his home by fire early this year, whereby he sustained a loss of approximately 2,000, served to greatly depress him.

During some of the troublous years of the war- 1917 and 1918 -the late Mr. Legh was mayor of Glen Innes, and had previously held many important public positions. He was the first president of the Repatriation Committee, one of the first vice-presidents of the R. S. and S. I. League, president of the Picnic Race and Jockey Clubs, president of the Polo Club, vice-president of the P. and A. Society, and treasurer of the Church of England Parochial Council.

Deceased was married in 1914 to Miss Belle O 'Connor, daughter of the late Mr. H. A. D. O'Connor and Mrs O'Connor, of Macquarie-street, Glen Innes. Mrs. Legh survives her husband. Deceased is also, survived by a sister, Mrs. H. C. Holmes, who has just returned to Glen Innes after having visited England, and a brother, who lives in Queensland.

The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon to the Church of England portion of the Glen Innes cemetery, where the deceased's father is interred. The pall-bearers were: Mr. J. N. Lyall, Mr. E. R. Collins (brothers-in-law), Mr. D. M. McGregor, Mr. H. R. Crossman, Mr. H. F. Bloxham, and Mr. H. Holmes. Rev. Canon Kemmis read the burial service, and Mr. H. A. Tutt had charge of the mortuary arrangements.

A few days later the following report was published in the Casino and Kyogle Courier and North Coast Advertiser on Wednesday 2 June 1920 on page 2.

EX-MAYOR FOUND DEAD.

A sensation was caused at Glen Innes on Thursday last when it became known that William Montague Legh had been found dead in a room at the rear of his late residence which was recently destroyed by fire. There were no marks on the body, though a fully loaded revolver was found close by, together with a bottle and a glass, which had something in it. The deceased was a well known solicitor, and was Mayor of the town for two years vacating the chair last year. The bottle found contained whisky, and the glass a white substance like cyanide of potassium. There was nothing to indicate a struggle. Four letters were left, one to his wife, another to his sister, Mrs. Holmes, who returned from England the day after the tragedy, and others to Messrs. H. R. Crossman, solicitor, and J. N. Lyall, brother-in-law. A will was also found. The letters indicated that Mr. Legh intended to take his life. Another brother, a grazier in Queensland, committed suicide some time ago.

On 25 April 1902 Colonel Rimington CB wrote to the Assistant Adjutant General Colonial Forces, Pretoria and stated,

'I have the honour to bring to your attention the conduct of the two officers named in the margin (Lieut O. Taylor and Lieut H. Waters 3d NSWMR), with a view to their receiving no further employment in this country.

On marching through Villiersburg from South to North on 13th instant, special precautions were taken to protect the houses of two Boer women, who had on several occasions been of use to His Majesty's Forces by giving information. These women were given orders by my intelligence officer protecting their property, and were also given small presents of sugar, coffee, etc. Military Mounted Police were posted on their houses to protect them. As the rear guard passed through the town these police were withdrawn.

The two rear troops which were commanded by the two officers in question, instead of continuing on with the remainder of the rear guard, and taking up a position on the heights overlooking the town from the North, as they should have done, stopped behind and headed by their officers, looted and set on fire the houses of these women, and robbed them of their money and their groceries. Both officers were shown the protecting passes by the women, and they threw them to one side. My Assistant Provost Marshall had to return and clear them out of the town. One of the women had a cross in her house which had been left with her by the O.C. 3rd N.S.W.M.R. to put over the grave of a man of this regiment, who had been buried in the neighbourhood. This had the man's name and regiment painted on it, and was shown to these officers.

I was not present with my column at the time or I should have had both these officers tried by Field General Court Martial, the officer temporarily in command gave them a public reprimand. I am sending a similar letter to this to the authorities in Australia.'

On 4 May 1902 Lieutenant M.R. Mecham claimed that the women had wrongly identified Lieutenant Waters and it was in fact Mecham who had gone to the women's houses.

In his defence, on board H.M. Transport 'Aurania' on 4 May 1902 Lieutenant Taylor wrote,

'I have the honour to state that on 13th April, when I was in charge of one of the rear troops of Colonel Rimington's Column, I was directed by Major Bennett to burn the houses in Villiersdorp, if not under police protection. As the houses were not so protected when I came to them, I acted on the General Orders which I had received during the drive and proceeded to burn them. Before however any damage had been done I was informed by the acting Provost Marshall that these houses were protected and at once withdrew my men.

I saw no protection passes as stated by the women. One house was burnt by Lieutenant Mecham and not by Lieutenant Waters as stated by the women. The house I went to was not burnt. As far as I know the woman who protected our comrades grave and buried him was not interfered with in any way.'

No further action was taken by the authorities in this matter.

'Coroner Commends Rescuer's Bravery

"I want to commend you on what I consider a most courageous action. It takes courage to enter water near rocks at any time, but more than usual courage when the water is rough," the Acting District Coroner (Mr. G. Hook, S.M.) told Edward Kenneth Bullough today.

Mr. Hook was inquiring into the death of Rupert Frank Smith, 62, at Red Ochre Beach on Dec. 3. He found that Smith died as a result of being accidentally washed from the rocks by a large wave while fishing. Bullough said he had gone fishing with his father and with Smith, who was his uncle, at the rocks at the northern end of Red Ochre Beach. His father had gone some distance away and he had turned away to re-rig his line, when he heard a noise like an especially large wave hitting the rocks.

He could not see Smith where he had been. He saw him in the water in the middle of the gulf and dived in after him. Bullough said: 'He seemed to be all right and was treading water. I called out to him to keep calm and finally got my arms about him and tried to make way to a point nearby. After some time I got him across to the rocks but because of the back-wash he was unable to get right onto them. A big wave washed us partly on to the rocks, but before I could get him on, he was washed back into the gulf again. I got to him again, but this time he seemed limp. Finally another big wave washed us high on the rocks and I pulled him clear. An ambulance officer and I tried for two hours to revive him but without success.'

Between the wars, Sidney Cameron drove taxis and in 1930 he was charged with manslaughter. The Sydney Morning Herald on Wednesday 12 February 1930 reported on page 12 as follows, 'Sidney Lindsay Cameron, a taxi-cab driver, was charged with having feloniously slain Paul Hilary John McMahon Swafeld Lofting, a boy, 14 years of age, in William-street, city, on November

25. Mr. Dovey (instructed by Mr. Simon Isaacs) appeared for the accused. Alfred John Stephens, a taxi-cab driver, stated that he saw the cab driven by the accused swerve outwards to get past traffic. He was travelling at about 25 miles an hour. He struck the boy, who was waiting at the stopping-place for a tram, knocking him down. Constable Bush said that the accused was quite sober. At the conclusion of the Crown case, the Jury acquitted the accused without leaving the box.'

'RINGAROOMA, Friday.

Service was held in Christ Church in the morning, and at night nearly every one in the district gathered in the Druids' Hall for a national festival. Eleven soldiers--Major W. J. Bennett, Troopers L. Styles, W. J. Clark; Privates F. Cleaver, H. Haines, E. Nillson, A. Oliver, J. Oliver, V. Townsend, J. Worker, and A. Wright marched up the hall to "Soldiers of the King" played by the local band, and to seats in the front of the platform. After "God Save the King" and "The Marseillaise" had been sung the vicar (the Rev. J. M. Macdonald) offered two prayers, the first for the nation (sent out from England by Mrs. Macdonald), and the second, also from England, sent by Mrs. Ingles-Chamberlayne, mother of an only son, who was a midshipman on H.M.S. Hawke, when the vicar's only son and hers were torpedoed and drowned.

After songs by the state school children, and the soldiers' chorus from Faust by ladies and gentlemen, the returned soldiers were presented with gold mementoes by Mr. D. Donovan (chairman of the reception committee), amid scenes of patriotic enthusiasm. Ten mementoes were posted to other soldiers such as Major Conder, and others, who could not possibly be present to receive them; also eleven to the next of kin representatives of those who have soldiers whose bodies have been left on the bloodstained battlefields of Gallipoli, Egypt, France, and Flanders. Mrs. Levesley sang "Anzac." Addresses were made by the chairman, and songs were sung by Messrs. A. Krushka, T. Bruce, Miss Donnelly, and Miss M. Wardlaw, accompanied by Miss E. Wardlaw (Scottsdale). Miss Macpherson's recitation, "Drunken Jim," who became a sober soldier, and died sober, touched the heart of the audience, and she was encored. The proceedings closed with the Australian intercession hymn, written on Gallipoli:-"Remember, Lord, Australia's sons to-night," which was sung by the whole audience. The arrangements by the reception committee, and the decoration of the platform by Mesdames Haines, Krushka, Fry, and other were much admired.'

MM: LG 28/7/1917, p7770; CAG 20/12/1917, p3372, to Gunner James Matthew O'Brien 38 Aust Field Arty Battery.

Recommendation: On the 13th May 1917 during the operations against the Hindenburg Line, a dug-out used as the Signal Office of the Infantry Brigade holding the section of the line to the East of Bullecourt, was blown in by a direct hit, killing all personnel and destroying instruments - thereby completely severing all communications. Gunner O'Brien (who is a Battery linesman), with Sergeant Phibbs at once volunteered to proceed to the spot and made every endeavour to restore communication. Enemy shelling at the time was extremely intense, many men becoming casualties. This man has on previous occasions been brought to notice for his splendid work and devotion to duty during the Somme operations.

(Note: This man was also recommended for a Military Medal on 14/6/17 for good work during the Messines operations but that recommendation was not sent on as notification was received that the MM had been awarded for the abovementioned operations.)

MSM: LG 17/6/1918 to Sergeant R.T.Willoughby in recognition of valuable service rendered with the Forces in France.

Recommendation: During the period 22 September 1917 to 25 February 1918 this NCO has shown exceptional resource and devotion to duty. As intelligence NCO of the Battalion he has constantly performed most dangerous duties in patrol and observation work, showing a disregard of danger which has been a splendid example to the men with whom he came in contact. His work has been of the greatest value to the Battalion and is worthy of recognition. (Recommended by H.E. 'Pompey' Elliot Brig. General Commanding 15th Infantry Brigade.)

The following report was published in The Telegraph, Brisbane, on Tuesday 30 January 1945, page 6.

'Death of Army Sister

Sister Mary Birt, who was head sister at the Lady Wilson Red Cross Convalescent Home at Chelmer, collapsed suddenly when visiting friends on Sunday afternoon and died almost immediately. The late Sister Birt who was on a week's leave, was apparently in the best of health. Her people came originally from Western Queensland, but with the exception of a sister, Mrs Tweedie, whose home is outside Dalby, her relatives now live in South Australia. Sister Birt served with the first AIF in Egypt and France. The matron of the Chelmer Home, where she had been stationed for three years, said that her services were invaluable. She was a member of the committee of the Union Jack Club, where in her leisure time she was a regular helper.'

The swing mounted medals were issued to Mr Noon following an application to the Department of Shipping and Transport in Melbourne, Australia on 9 November 1959. This was an arrangement that existed whereby Australia issued campaign awards to ex-pat British merchant navy veterans in exchange for the UK doing the same for ex-pat Australians. Details of the other two medals that he was entitled to became known after he had passed away, hence one of the medals is unnamed and the other medal is a replica since only the recipient or their executor can claim the original medals. Correspondence with the lot confirms his medal entitlement while serving with the Australian Merchant Navy.

Original Military Medal received from London 29 June 1945 and due to his being killed-in-action it was presented to his next-of-kin, his mother, Mrs Bessie Langford by the Governor of South Australia at Government House, Adelaide on 15 February 1946. This medal was later destroyed during the Black Friday bushfires in South Australia and on proof of the loss this replacement medal was supplied by the Government together with his previously six unclaimed service medals.

MM: LG 14/10/1943, page 4548; CAG 6/1/1944, page 6, to Corporal Reginald Wilfred Langford, 2/32nd Aust Infy Bn.

Citation: During the whole of operations at El Alamein Langford was noticeable for his devotion to duty, complete disregard for personal safety and intelligent handling of his cable detachment. As the result of his careful reconnaissance and excellent appreciation of the problems concerning maintenance of lines under his control, communications by line were maintained despite heavy shell fire and continuous tank movement. During Western Desert operations Langford gave service of a conspicuously high order and accomplished all tasks allotted to him, despite great difficulties which were encountered on many occasions.

Reginald Wilfred Langford, technical assistant, age 22, born at Malvern, Sth Aust; Enl.06Jul1940 at Adelaide, Sth Aust, in Aust Sigs; to L/Cpl 27Jul1940; Emb.26Dec1940; to A/Cpl 26Dec1940; to Middle East 29Jan1941; to Cpl 26Dec1941; RTA 27Jan1943; to Milne Bay 06Aug1943; to A/Sgt 13Jan1944; on 09Jun1944 while receiving treatment at 105 AMH from an anxiety state, Cpl Langford climbed a ladder on a chimney stack and accidentally fell about 60 feet resulting in his death - a Court of Inquiry found there was no proof that it was not an accident although the probabilities of this being deliberate were high; Commemorated at Adelaide (Centennial Park) Cemetery.

MM: LG 30/12/1941, p7338, to L/Cpl Peter Rothsay Browne-Cooper, 2/16 Aust Infy Bn.

Recommendation for DCM awarded MM (copied verbatim): During the action at the Litani river on 9/10 Jun 41 L/Cpl. Browne-Cooper, DR, carried messages fwd to the br. Head on numerous occasions whilst under heavy fire. At Saida on 13 Jun 41 he again was responsible for delivery of orders and messages to the fwd. Coys, showing complete disregard for the heavy enemy fire.

When Comn became more difficult because of an enemy Tk attack he was ordered to carry fwd. a pack wireless set to D. Coy 2/16 Aust. Inf. Bn. Whilst proceeding, he had his MC shot from underneath him, totally destroying it. Although severely shaken and unnerved he carried the wireless set fwd. a considerable distance under fire to the Coy H.Q. and afterwards returned to Bn. HQ to make his report on D. Coy's. Posn.

L/Cpl. Browne-Cooper's courage and devotion to duty throughout the ops. Has been of a high standard and by his personal efforts contributed considerably to the success of the action. He is recommended for the immediate award of the Distinguished Conduct Medal.

Pte G.H.Turner provided a sworn statement to the War Crimes and Trials held in 1946-1948. His statement (exactly as typed) reads as follows:- Date & Place - May & Aug 43 - 80 Kilo Camp - This statement is to verify that a certain Guard by the name of "SNAKE EYES" was causing lots of trouble mainly on building the Railway Line in BURMA. It was at the 80 Kilo Camp one day out on the job when it was getting very late and we were still working when SNAKE EYES struck Private Lock 2/2 Pioneers Batt. And the Lieut. J.K.B. Lee who was captured in TIMOR and then later on joined us protested (sic - protested) against it and then waited when we got in camp and paraded him to "HITAHARI" the Korean Interpreter, said that what the guards did and said was right and then HITAHARI the interpreter bashed up Lieut Lee and Private Lock. "SNAKE EYES" said that Lock was smoking on the job. Both I and Lieut LEE and the rest of the men know Pte LOCK was not smoking and also the interpreter HITAHARI. Also a Korean bashed up Capt KENNEDY of 2/3 MG Batt when he had a bad back and suffering with it very much when HITAHARI bashed him and he also gave bashing up to nearly everybody in the camp and also NIKASHEMA was the same thing and many beatings up he did. The 2/30 Infantry Battalion was formed on 22 November 1940 at Tamworth, New South Wales and was the last AIF infantry brigade raised for service in World War II. The first commanding officer was Lieutenant Colonel F.G. 'Black Jack' Galleghan and his men became known as 'Galleghan's greyhounds'. After arriving at Singapore the battalion went to Malaya where they ambushed the Japanese at Gemas in the first AIF attack against the Japanese army and inflicted severe casualties on the enemy. They then fought in the defence of Singapore but the British commander order a surrender and the 2/30 Battalion members spent the next three and a half years as prisoners of war. The men were used as labourers including being sent to work on the Burma-Thailand railway. Over 300 men of the 2/30th died as POWs. After the war ended in August 1945 the allied prisoners were repatriated to Australia.

John Alwyn Meillon married Miss Yvonne Parmentier of Mosman at St Mary's Cathedral, Sydney on 13 August 1946. One of the officiating priests, Rev. Dr. P. Walsh, and two of the groom's best men, Brian Meagher and Nugent Keikie, were also POWs. John A. Meillon died on 20 November 1961 and was buried at Macquarie Park Cemetery, North Ryde, Sydney, NSW.

The following article was published in The Forbes Advocate on Friday 5 March 1948, page 2.

'Mr. Ray Meillon, who has been practising as a solicitor at Forbes for the last 30 years has admitted to partnership a nephew, Mr. John A. Meillon, B.A., L.L.B., and from Monday last the firm will be conducted as Meillon and Meillon. Mr. John Meillon served in Malaya and at the time of the capitulation was in hospital severely wounded, and became a prisoner of war till the termination of hostilities. Before going to the war he played first-grade cricket with the University and then North Sydney, and is looking forward to the next season in Forbes to again take up the game.'

R.C.Pinder's second name is spelt in several ways throughout his records - these include Cotterell, Cotterel, Cottrill, and Cottril.

Richard Cotterel Pinder, cook & baker, age 32, born at Guildford, Sydney, NSW; Enl.01Aug1941 at Paddington, Sydney, NSW; TOS GB Depot 01Aug1941; to A/Cpl 04Aug1941; Emb.17Sep1941; Disemb.05Oct1941 at Singapore; to Cpl 13Dec1941; MIA 16Feb1942 in Malaya, later reported POW and interned at Malaya Camp 5; recovered from Japanese at Singapore 05Sep1945; RTA 12Sep1945; Disemb.16Sep1945 at Sydney, NSW; Disch.27Dec1945 as Corporal ex General Base Depot 8 Aust Div; Died 14Jan1979 as Bernard Roy Pinder (AKA Richard Cotterill (sic) Pinder) and was buried at Rookwood Methodist Cemetery, Rookwood, Sydney, NSW.

It appears the war had an effect on him because in September 1950 at the Merriwa Police Court Richard C. Pinder pleaded guilty to a charge of using indecent language and resisting arrest. The police constable who gave evidence of the arrest asked the bench to take into consideration the fact that the defendant was a returned soldier with five years' service overseas. The defendant said he had been under medical treatment for some time and was subject to occasional blackouts when he took any liquor. Consequently the defendant was very leniently dealt with and only fined ten shillings. Then again in July 1953 Richard Cottrell Pinder was charged with having suspected stolen goods in his possession. He pleaded guilty and was fined five pounds or one month's imprisonment. Perhaps this is why he started using the name Bernard Roy Pinder.

OBE (Military): LG 5/8/1941, p4509 - Lieutenant C.J.P.Guille RANR (S), HMAS Perth - for bravery and devotion boarding a burning merchantman.

Guille was part of the fire party from HMAS Perth (I) which boarded the ammunition ship Essex after she had been struck by a bomb on 16 January 1941. Guille had previously served aboard Essex and his knowledge of the ship enabled him to direct fire parties, engineers and rescue parties, displaying the highest levels of leadership and disregard for personal safety. Upon seeing that the dockyard mains were insufficient, he insisted upon having hoses run from Perth's own mains, which were ultimately the means of saving the ship. Guille was more responsible than any other individual for the ultimate safety of Essex and probably Perth as well.

Claude James Poingdestre Guille, born 17Mar1908 at Southampton, England; mobilised for service 02Sep1940, home port at Port Lincoln, Sth Aust; to Lieut 22Aug1940; commanded minesweeper, HMAS Mildura 19Jan1942 to 21Jul1943; to A/Lt Cdr 29Nov1943; commanded minesweeper, HMAS Wagga 18Apr1944 to 01Dec1945; Disch.04Jan1946 as Lieutenant ex HMAS Rushcuttcr.

Roy Brown, labourer, age 22, born at Kyogle, NSW; Enl.21Jul1950 at Brisbane, Qld, in Aust Regular Army and to Infantry Centre, Ingleburn,

The enemy attacked savagely under the clangour of bugles and trumpets. The forward elements were completely surrounded going through the first day and into the second. Again and again the enemy threw waves of troops at the gallant defenders, and many times succeeded in penetrating the outer defences, but each time the courageous, indomitable, and determined soldiers repulsed the fanatical attacks. Ammunition ran low and there was no time for food. Critical supplies were dropped by air to the encircled troops, and they stood their ground in resolute defiance of the enemy. With serene and indefatigable persistence, the gallant soldiers held their defensive positions and took heavy tolls of the enemy. In some instances when the enemy penetrated the defences, the commanders directed friendly artillery fire on their own positions in repelling the thrusts.

Toward the close of 25 April, the enemy break-through had been stopped. The seriousness of the break-through on the central front had been changed from defeat to victory by the gallant stand of these heroic and courageous soldiers. The 3rd Battalion, Royal Australian Regiment; 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry; and Company A, 72nd Heavy Tank Battalion, displayed such gallantry, determination, and esprit de corps in accomplishing their missions under extremely difficult and hazardous conditions as to set them apart and above other units participating in the campaign, and by their achievements they brought distinguished credit on themselves, their homelands, and all freedom-loving nations.

Together with booklet for Investiture at Government House and with Entree Card to Admit Senior Constable LH Rudder; booklet Attestation Parade, Constable Education Program, at which Senior Constable Rudder was presented with Commissioner's Valour Award; letters of congratulations from important officials; various articles, newspaper clippings, posters and a host of other documents and photos relating to the courage and police service of Senior Constable Leah Rudder.

Star of Courage: Awarded by the Governor-General Michael Jeffery and presented at Government House, Canberra 12 March 2007.

Citation: In the early morning of 10 April 2003, Senior Constable Rudder rescued an unconscious man from a burning house at Tarro, New South Wales.

At around midnight, Senior Constable Rudder was driving into her driveway after work when she heard breaking glass and yelling coming from a neighbouring house. She drove to investigate and found a female using a garden hose through a window of a house that was on fire. The woman informed Senior Constable Rudder that she had called emergency services. The fire had engulfed the front section of the house. Senior Constable Rudder looked through a partially broken window to determine whether the occupant of the house was still inside. Visibility was poor, so she used a steel bucket she found at the rear of the house to break more of the window. She was still unable to see inside and the window was too high for her to gain access, so she returned to the rear of the house and tried the back door. It was locked so she kicked the wooden door repeatedly until she had made a hole to crawl through. She was unable to gain access, however, due to intense heat and smoke. She returned to her vehicle, called for assistance and grabbed a torch. Senior Constable Rudder used the torch to smash a window and look inside for any occupants. She saw a man lying on the floor, wedged between the foot of a bed and the wall. She returned to her car to advise colleagues who had now arrived, that she was going inside to rescue the man. One of her colleagues went with her and they both entered the house through the hole in the rear door. They tried to drag the man from the house but he remained wedged and they were forced to retreat when they were overcome by the intense heat and thick smoke. After getting some fresh air, they re-entered the house and, despite the fire gaining in intensity, returned to the bedroom. As they dragged the man to the door of the bedroom, the walls and ceiling began to collapse and both officers were showered with sparks and debris. The man became jammed in the doorway, and while Senior Constable Rudder tried to free him, her colleague was forced to retreat due to smoke inhalation. Senior Constable Rudder continued to pull the unconscious man by his feet down the hallway. A colleague then assisted her in removing the man from the burning house to safety. By her actions, Senior Constable Rudder displayed conspicuous bravery.

NSW Police Commissioner's Valour Award: Conferred upon Senior Constable Leah Helene Rudder 3 December 2003 by K.E.Moroney, Commissioner of Police.

Citation: In recognition of the extreme bravery and meritorious service displayed when undertaking the successful rescue of a person from a house fire at Tarro on 11 April 2003.

Senior Constable Rudder became aware of a residence which was well alight and ascertained that a person was inside. Access was gained by crawling through a hole in a door made whilst gaining entry to the building. The occupant was located unconscious and wedged between the wall and furniture. Unable to release the person, she exited the premises to call for additional support.

On the arrival of assistance a further attempt to release the occupant was undertaken. However, due to smoke inhalation and the intense heat both officers left the premises.

Undeterred and facing intense heat, acrid smoke and falling debris, Senior Constable Rudder re-entered the premises unaccompanied. On that occasion she was able to free the person and began pushing the occupant along the floor.

Although this situation presented a real threat to Senior Constable Rudder's life, she maintained her resolve and was eventually able to complete a successful rescue with the assistance of other personnel.

By her actions Senior Constable Rudder displayed courage, professionalism and responsibility to the community in an extremely dangerous situation. She is highly commended for her valour under extreme duress.

Leah Helene Kennaway, born 15Jul1970 at Deniliquin, NSW and then moved to Goulburn where her father worked as Valuer General and here she attended Goulburn High School; moved to Wagga Wagga when her father was appointed Regional Valuer General and attended Koorringal High School there until completing her Higher School Certificate; joined NSW Police Force on 24Apr1989 as a Student Police Officer, this was the first class conducted under the new PREP (Pole Recruit Education Program), a 6-month training course that included a placement period at Wagga Wagga Police Station; attested to rank of Probationary Constable 24Oct1989 and stationed at Kings Cross Police Station where she performed General Duties Police, both mobile and beat patrol; confirmed as a Constable Oct1990; for next 5 years at Kings Cross Patrol she performed secondments with various roles and duties within Sydney Charge Room and Cell Complex, Prisoner Transport Unit, Riot Squad and Sexual Assault Unit; one of only a few female officers to train with the newly formed Riot Squad and highly sought-after IROC (Initial Response Officer's Course) selected and specifically trained to take sexual assault statements from victims; appointed Constable First Class in 1995; married on 07Jan1995 to police officer David John Rudder; twin boy and girl born prematurely at Paddington, Sydney NSW on 30Aug1995; Senior Constables David and Leah Rudder transferred to Lower Hunter Command in Mar1996, David stationed at Cessnock Police Station and Leah at Maitland Police Station where she performed duties General Duties, Domestic Violence, Warrant and Summons, Sexual Assault and as a Police Negotiator; she had another son born in 1998 and continued to work in a part-time capacity at Maitland Police Station as a Domestic Violence Liaison Officer for the Lower Hunter Command encompassing 17 police stations and also continued working as an IROC Officer, Police Negotiator and later as an Investigator at Newcastle Crash Investigator Unit; Senior Constable Leah Rudder was medically discharged from the NSW Police Force with both physical and psychological injuries on 23December 2010 after a 22-year career.

Senior Constable Leah Rudder was the first female police officer in Australia to be awarded the Star of Courage. She was also given the honour of being the only female of a number of life size fixed banners erected on 'Heroes Walk' at the NSW Police Academy and she appears in The Who's Who of Australia 2008 and the Valour Roll at the NSW Police Academy.

The medal is unnamed and is in case of issue by Elkington & Co Ld.

Trooper Thomas C Robertson, born 1864 in NSW; Enl. for service in South Africa and Emb. 17Jan1900 with D Sqn 1st NSW Mounted Rifles Contgt; arrived Cape Town 19Feb1900; operations from Modder River to Bloemfontein 04-14Mar1900 then advanced to Pretoria; from May1900 with De Lisle's Column and engagements at Brandfort, Vet River, Zand River, Kroonstad, Lindley, Johannesburg, Pretoria, Diamond Hill, Heidelberg, Wittebergen, Palmietfontein, Vredefort, Venterskroon, Alexanderfontein, Boschfontein, Schoeman's Drift, Rensburg Drift and Bothaville; KIA 21Nov1900 at Rhenoster Kop, near Kroonstad, Orange River Colony.

In communications to Robertson's sister, Mrs C.W. Pleydell Bouverie in Winchester, England, after his death, Colonel Knight, commanding New South Wales Mounted Infantry wrote, 'I was not there when it happened. I was deeply grieved when I heard the news. Robertson was one of my best men, an awfully good fellow, and as brave as a lion.' Another communication stated, 'the deceased was on patrol duty under Lieutenant Antill and 14 men, and was the only man hit besides four horses; they were retiring, and he was struck by a chance shot, as there were several men between him and the Boers. The bullet caught him in the back, coming out at the chest, and he only lived one hour, dying quietly with a smile on his face. He was brought out of action, Captain Watson carrying him across his saddle. The colonel (Knight) was much concerned about it. Deceased was universally beloved by all his comrades, and considered to be one of the best scouts in the regiment.'

In a letter to Major Bouverie, General E.T.H. Hutton, commanding Colonial Mounted Brigade, wrote, 'I had learned of Mrs Bouverie's brother's death while serving with the New South Wales Mounted Rifles. The regiment was, as perhaps you know, a portion of my command, but during the later phases of the campaign became detached from me. The regiment (of which I am hon. colonel) did magnificent service and I several times had young Robertson mentioned to me as a good and gallant soldier. Pray offer my deep sympathies to your wife and her sister.'

A news report in the Riverina Grazier on 21 December 1900 stated, 'The death of the late Trooper Thomas C. Robertson has occasioned widespread regret throughout the district, and Mr Leslie Robertson has received many telegrams and letters of sympathy and condolence. Amongst others who telegraphed was Mr. McBratney of Toganmain who wired, "All Toganmain friends were sorry to hear of Tommy's death. Kindly accept sincere sympathy." The Mayor sent Mr Robertson an official letter of condolence. The late soldier, it will be remembered was mentioned in the despatches from Pretoria, of August 25th last, for conspicuous good work and bravery on scouting, patrolling, and other dangerous duties, from 12th April to 16th June.'

On Sunday 30 June 1901 a church parade was held at All Saints, Woollahra when a memoriam tablet was unveiled in honour of the late Thomas C.

lot 4542 part

Robertson of Hay, NSW, son of the late Mr Thomas Robertson, solicitor, and cousin of Mr Leslie S.C. Robertson. The members of the military fell in at Victoria Barracks and were preceded by the R.A. Artillery Band under Band-Sergeant McCarthy. On arrival at the church they were received by Captain Sandford of the R.A. Artillery, representing the headquarters' staff, and consisted of a number of 7th Regiment under Captain F.W.C. Crane, who was accompanied by Lieutenant Hughes of the 6th National Guards, Australian Rifles, St George's Rifles, Artillery, 1st Regiment, Scottish Rifles and some members of the returned contingents. Reverend H. Wallace Mort, M.A., senior military chaplain, conducted the service and delivered an address in which he referred to the straight-forward and honourable characteristics of the deceased's life. The brass tablet which was unveiled by Captain W.W. Russell Watson bears the inscription, 'In memory of Thomas C. Robertson of the New South Mounted Infantry, who was killed in action on 21st November, 1900, near Kroonstad, South Africa; aged 30 years. Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.' The service concluded with the congregation singing the National Anthem.

Trooper Robertson is also commemorated on the South African War Memorial in the Hay Park which commemorates the Hay District volunteers who lost their lives in the South African War. The memorial, unveiled on 6 May 1903, in the form of a monumental drinking fountain is constructed of granite and placed on a blue-stone base.

The following is an abridged version of an article published in The Queenslander on Saturday 5 January 1901 on pages 21-23.

Mr Frank A. Nock, the well-known veterinary surgeon of Wickham-terrace in Brisbane left Gladstone on 25 February 1901 in charge of 615 horses sent by ship to South Africa as remounts for the Imperial troops. The voyage lasted fifty-three days and was severely overcrowded with horses everywhere -in the lower holds, in the 'tween decks, in the well decks, along the alleyways, on the poop, and on the bridge deck. The ship reached Table Bay on 6 April and the horses were unloaded on the next day. Mr Nock reported to the authorities and was asked to place his services at the disposal of the Imperial Staff and when he accepted he joined the veterinary and remount department. His chief duty was to attend to sick horses as well as examine the remounts going to the front.

In the veterinary hospital there was a daily average of about 800 horses and about 200 horses were treated as out-patients. Sometimes he had to examine about 800 horses in a day for remounts, as ships loaded with horses arrived from all parts of the world. The now ranked Captain Nock had the opportunity to see horses sent from England, Scotland, Hungary, Canada, Australia and the Argentine and as far as he could judge, the best of them were from Australia or 'Walers' as they were called and there was a big rush to get them. Unfortunately Captain Nock never got to the front and he contracted enteric fever which ended his service in South Africa. He was taken to Wynberg Hospital and after a long illness that nearly terminated fatally he was discharged and invalided to England on the hospital ship Nubia.

He was amazed at the wonderful hospitality shown to him in England and was invited to be a guest of the Prince and Princess of Wales. He then went to the Bablingly Convalescent House at the Sandringham Estate which was lavishly fitted out for four patients from the war and he stayed there with three other Canadian officers. The Prince and Princess were absent at the time and the officers were given the run of the whole Sandringham Estate including the use of the stables and carriages.

After leaving Sandringham, Mr Nock was invited to be the guest of the Countess of Dudley and remained about a week in London where he stayed at the Hotel Cecil. He was then sent on visits to South Wales, Ireland and Scotland and on his return attended Doncaster races which he regarded as being inferior to both Flemington and Eagle Farm racecourses. He was then sent to the Paris Exhibition and to Switzerland, all expenses paid, which he regarded as the generous hospitality of the English to honour colonials who had placed their services at the command of the mother country.

Recommendation: At Armentieres on the night 3rd /4th. January 1917, during an enemy raid on our trenches, he acted with great coolness and gallantry. He assisted in the firing of a Lewis gun until the gun was put out of action by being smothered in mud from bursting Minenwerfers. He then mounted the parapet, threw bombs, and fired his rifle at the raiders, doing excellent service in the successful repelling of the raid. He had, on a previous occasion, done remarkably cool and good works in connexion with the repelling of an enemy raid.

(Minenwerfers was the German name for a class of short range mine shell launching mortars used by the Imperial German Army during WWI.)

'MENACED WITH REVOLVER - NIGHT PORTER'S STORY

TWO SOLDIERS CONVICTED

Arthur William Smith and Rupert Coughlan pleaded not guilty at the Quarter Sessions to-day to a charge of having assaulted Nicholas Galanis with intent to rob him. Galanis is the night porter at a George street coffee palace, and the Crown case was that the accused, who were members of the A.I.E.F. on final leave, went to the coffee-palace late on the night of November 9. They saw Galanis, and after a conversation with him knocked him down and menaced him with a revolver, while they demanded the contents of the cash register. They were told that the register had been emptied early in the night, and they then went away. They were afterwards arrested at a coffee stall.

The accused, who were undefended, made statements from the dock to the effect that after spending a few hours at a house in Ultimo on the night in question they were on their way back to their military quarters at Moore Park, when they were arrested. The jury, after a brief retirement, returned into court, and one of the jurymen asked Judge Hamilton if it was the duty of the jury to believe the evidence for the prosecution. He said that two of the jurymen absolutely disbelieved the evidence for the Crown.

His Honor said he could not assist them in the matter. If they had any doubt they must acquit the accused. He, however, said he would read a passage in the evidence which he had not referred to in his summing up. He then read: "One of the accused, when arrested, said, 'These are the sort of -we have to fight for; we should have murdered the black - .'"The jury retired again, and after a lapse of a couple of minutes returned with a verdict of guilty against both accused. They were remanded for sentence.'

A further report in The Sun newspaper on Friday 8 December 1916, page 3 stated 'Arthur William Smith, 23, and Rupert Coughlan, 22, found guilty of assault with intent to rob, were each sentenced to 12 months' hard labor in Goulburn Gaol.'

Together with bravery recognition for historic Canterbury Flood on weekend 25-27 May 1889, a medal in gold (tested as 15ct; 5.32g; 25mm), hand decorated and engraved, ring top suspension, obverse inscribed, 'Presented/By/Farrow/Concert/Committee/To/Constable Plunkett', reverse inscribed, 'For/Brave effort to/Save Life and/Bus in Flood./27.5.89./Canterbury. N.S.W.'; N.S.W. Rifle Clubs' Union prize medal in voided silver (29x32mm), by W.Kerr, ring top suspension, obverse inscribed, 'H.Plunkett', reverse inscribed, 'A. Grade./2nd/Police R.C./1902-3'.

Henry James Plunkett, sergeant of police, age 45 (actual age was 55), born 22Aug1860 at Barrow Gurney, Bristol, Somersetshire, England; Enl.17Jul1915 at Warwick Farm, NSW, with previous service in 2Regt Infy 1878-9 and then joined NSW Police Force; Emb.22Dec1915 with AMC; to Bulford Dermatological Mil Hosp 13Oct1916; trf to 5Div Supply Coy 16Jun1917; to be Driver 19Jun1917; to France 20Jun1917; to hospital with scabies 18Aug1917; RTA 01Nov1917; Disch.12Feb1918 as over age and Medically Unfit; commemorated at the NSW Police Chapel War Memorial.

Police career began as a Probationary Constable 21Jun1886; to Ordinary Constable 01Sep1886; to Constable 1st Class 01Jan1890; to Senior Constable 01Sep1893; to Sergeant 2nd Class 01Aug1909; to Sergeant 1st Class 28May1918; Disch.30Jun1918; Died 09Jul1940 at his residence in Charing Cross, Sydney, aged 79; Buried at Botany Cemetery on 10Jul1940.

On Monday 27 May 1889 Constable Plunkett was a passenger in a horse-bus that was swept off the bridge over the Cook's River at Canterbury. Despite a desperate attempt by Constable Plunkett to save the fare boy named Herbert Price of Newtown, unfortunately he drowned as did the four horses. The driver and Constable Plunkett were later rescued by some local market gardeners.

At a meeting of the Canterbury Borough Council on 19 June 1889 Alderman Stone moved, 'That a letter be sent to the Inspector-General of Police, asking him to recognise Constable Plunkett's heroism during the recent floods at Canterbury, in trying to save life and property.' The motion was carried.

Also on Friday 28 June 1889 a handsome gold appendage was presented to Constable Plunkett at the School of Arts, Ashfield. Dr Fitzpatrick made the presentation on behalf of the committee, who assisted Miss H.L.Farrow in the carrying out of a concert recently to aid the flood victims.
