Scott's hut located on the north shore of Cape Evans on Ross Island in Antarctica was erected in 1911 by the British Antarctic Expedition of 1910-13 led by Scott. After 1917 it remained untouched until 1956 when it was dug out of the snow and ice in a good state of preservation and it contained many artefacts from earlier expeditions. Some items were taken as souvenirs at the time and since (as for example this tin of Cocoa) nonetheless, the hut remains basically as it was in 1917. New Zealand and the United Kingdom have undertaken responsibility at various times to maintain it. Included is a photo of the hut's kitchen showing a crate marked Fry's Pure Cocoa.
