$70

Made in two parts for displaying on the fishing boat. This rare medallion was issued to fishermen who had converted their boats into minesweepers during World War I. The designer, Lady Feodora Gleichen or Feo as her family and friends called her, took over her father's studio at St James Palace, London during World War I. She was the eldest daughter of a British Admiral, Prince Victor of Hohenlohe-Langenburg a half nephew of Queen Victoria, who was also a sculptor and probably had a hand in asking her to design this medallion. One of her major relief works is found in Sydney at the Art Gallery of NSW and the 37th British Division Memorial at Moncey-Le-Preux in France is another of her superb works. She was awarded the French Legion of Honour in 1922 and after her death she was made posthumously the first female member of the Royal British Society of Sculptors and later an award was created in her name.

1630 Arthur Robert Smith, stockman, age 26, born at Yetman, NSW; Enl.29Feb1916 at Inverell, NSW in 33Bn; Emb.04May1916; Trf to 53Bn 09Sep1916 and to France; to hospital in France 05Nov1916 with pneumonia and dangerously ill; returned to England and admitted to hospital 23Nov1916; RTA 17Mar1917; Disch.20Nov1917.

The following article was published in The Inverell Times, page 2, on Friday 26 October 1917. "There was an overflow gathering at the Bonshaw Public Hall on Saturday afternoon to welcome home Private Arthur Smith. Mr. W. J. Gobbert occupied the chair. He explained the object of the meeting, and extended a welcome home to the returned soldier. "Home Sweet Home" was then sung, and all present sat down to afternoon tea, which was provided by the ladies of Bonshaw.

Mr. Fred Purvis spoke on behalf of the soldier and his parents. Mr. George Phifer also spoke, after which Mr. W. A. Bentley presented Private Smith, on behalf of his Bonshaw friends, with a handsome gold medal, suitably inscribed, which was pinned on by Miss Beatrice Hallam. After the singing of "For he's a jolly good fellow," cheers were given for the King, the returned soldier, and the boys who are still fighting for us.

Private A. Smith was one of the gallant 33rd Battalion. He left Australia about 18 months ago, but did not reach the actual firing line, as he had the misfortune to contract a very serious illness on landing in France, and on that account was invalided home. Still being in a very low condition on reaching Sydney, he had to spend many weeks in hospital there, where he gradually recovered, but apart from that he is now looking remarkably well.

Private Smith has also a brother, Crief (see footnote at end), who returned some months ago, after being twice wounded, and yet another brother, Ernie, who is at present in hospital suffering from wounds, but we are pleased to know he was doing well when last heard of, writes a Bonshaw correspondent.'

Henry Keppel (14 June 1809 - 17 January 1904) was a Royal Navy officer who became Admiral of the Fleet. His first command was off the coast of Spain during the First Carlist War. He was promoted to captain on 5 December 1837 and served as commanding officer of the corvette HMS Dido on the East Indies and China Station and was deployed in operations during the First Opium War and operations against Borneo pirates. He also served as commander of the naval brigade besieging Sebastopol during the Crimean War. In September 1856 he was promoted to commodore and was appointed second-in-command of the East Indies and China Station and commanded the British squadron in the action at the Battle of Fatshan Creek during which 100 enemy war-junks were sunk. He also took part in the capture of Canton during the Second Opium War. Keppel went on to be Commander-in-Chief at Cape of Good Hope and West Coast of Africa Station, then Commander-in-Chief, South East Coast of America Station, then China Station and finally Commander-in-Chief in Plymouth.

He was promoted to rear admiral on 22 August 1857 and appointed a Groom in Waiting to the Queen on 24 September 1859. He was then promoted to vice admiral on 11 January 1864, full admiral on 12 July 1869 and Admiral of the Fleet on 5 August 1877 and appointed First and Principal Naval Aide-de-Camp to the Queen on 9 March 1878 before retiring in June 1879. PRIVATE M. S. RENNIE.

Malcolm Stark Rennie is, as his name indicates a native of Scotland, and was born at Mary Hill, a suburb of Glasgow. He is thirty-three years of age, and has for several years held a very high position amongst the rifle shots of the United Kingdom. The first corps to which young Rennie attached himself was the 1st Dumbarton, a corps noted alike for its drill and its shooting, and one which has many times gained the encomiums of the Commander-in-Chief. His natural taste soon led him into the shooting squad of this corps, and it was not long before he asserted his superiority with the rifle, putting down some of the most redoubtable of the Dumbarton shots.

At drill he was as good as on the range, and it was not long before he was in the ranks of the non-commissioned officers; 1888 finding him ranking as a sergeant. It was only natural that an ambitious marksman like Rennie should wish to pit himself against the very best shooting men he could find for he had learnt the lesson that super-excellence can only be attained by the very keenest competition, and so in the natural order of things he attached himself to the 3rd Lanark Rifles in 1889, which was then as now the finest shooting Volunteer corps in Scotland. Young Rennie had already made too great a name in the shooting world to be passed over by his new comrades, and it was a very short time before he was one of the recognised shots of a company which contains more Queen's Hundred men than any other. What did a great deal to stamp his superiority about this time was the fact that he won a Martini rifle given by the Colonel of the corps for competition, and in which all the principal men competed. After this great things were prophesied for Rennie who by the way was always a great favourite, his genial good nature and manly enthusiasm for his corps being a byword amongst his comrades. Since his first year in the 3rd Lanark he was always included in that corps' first team for matches against other corps, and his name was invariably found close to the head of the score sheet.

In 1889 such was the fame of the young shot that he was chosen to represent Scotland in the International Team, and has been a member of that team ever since, an honour which falls to the lot of but few. At the National Rifle Association meetings he has been a constant attendant since he took up shooting, and many of the very best prizes have fallen to his prowess. In the Grand Aggregate Match, one of the greatest at the Bisley Meeting, he has on several occasions occupied high places, and this year he succeeded in getting a close second and winning the silver cross trophy. He also got a high place in the Volunteer Aggregate as well as in the All Comers Aggregate, whilst most of the other prize lists have his name in a prominent position upon them. In the Queen's Prize he fired 65 shots at all ranges, making 283 points out of a possible 330, which is the highest score yet made for this great trophy, and when the weather is taken into consideration there is little doubt that Private Rennie is the finest shot that Scotland has ever produced. Many humorous stories are told of the 3rd Lanark men at Bisley, where they were wonderfully successful this season, as in addition to Rennie receiving first place, M'Gibbon was second, Muirhead fourth, Izatt ninth, whilst five others of the corps' representatives succeeded in getting into the coveted Queen's Hundred.

Rennie holds one of the N.R.A. medals and as a medallist took part in the Prince of Wales's, in which he got a prominent place. All the 3rd Lanark men are earnest believers in the merits of the Webley-M'Gibbon Martini, as is only natural considering that M'Gibbon is a member of the corps, and one of its most prominent shots. Rennie's 1894 shoots, as given in the 3rd Lanark Chronicle are, International 84; Scottish Meeting-1st in Grand Aggregate, First Stage Championship 5th, Second Stage Championship 5th, Bannockburn Prizes 8th, Coal Exchange Aggregate 9th, besides several minor prizes. In the Western District competitions he got fifth place. The Inter-regimental Match saw Rennie at the head with 99 out of 105, whilst in the Corps competitions his name appears constantly in the prize list. All these are, in addition to the prizes he took at Bisley, a record which should surely satisfy any rifleman in the world. Rennie has since been unanimously elected a Lieutenant of the 3rd Lanark, another testimony to his sterling worth. He is not a teetotaler, indeed rumour says that the mixture kept by Rennie and M'Gibbon at Bisley for a slight cold or such like had a label bearing the well-known "Bullseye" brand, and that it was to this as a corrective to the execrable weather that both owed their wonderful shooting. Rennie, although not a heavy smoker, loves a pipe, and does not believe that the use of the fragrant weed does him any harm. He is in business as a timber merchant in Glasgow.
