The countermark is spurious and probably made in the early 20th century, and the attribution to British Honduras for similar types is uncertain. Pridmore notes that the type without frame and GR in cursive script is genuine and was issued on dollars up to 1818. Issues on coins struck after this date must be modern copies. The use of a different block GR further emphasises the status of this countermark as a modern concoction. A similar example was in the Ray Byrne sale (Jess Peters No. 78, held on June 13-5, 1975, lot 1379 realising $65) on an 1816 Mexico City eight reales.

INDIA

BRITISH EAST INDIA COMPANY

Madras Presidency

1978*

Madras Presidency, Indian Style Coinage, Hindu System, Gold pagoda, circa 1643-1677, struck at Fort St. George (Madras) mint (3.35 grams), obv. very crude figure of a deity (probably Hanuman the monkey god of Vijayanagar), rev. plain (Pr. 1 var., KM. -). Good very fine, very rare.

$200

Ex Glendining's Nov. 21, 1974 (lot 423) and Colin E. Pitchfork Collection, Noble Numismatics sale 48 (lot 1979). Pridmore did not have an example of this type from Madras in his collection. The obverse figure is very uncertain and if anything is closer to a gorilla than a monkey.

1979*

Madras Presidency, Indian Style Coinage, Hindu System, Gold pagoda, circa 1678-1740, struck at Fort St. George (Madras) mint (3.405 grams), obv. single standing deity, (probably Vishnu?), rev. granulated (Pr.2 var., KM. 288). Good extremely fine, rare.

$220

Ex Spink & Son London, June 23, 1978 by private purchase and Colin E. Pitchfork Collection, Noble Numismatics sale 48 (lot 1980). The granulated reverse was apparently copied from the Dutch Negapatam pagoda circa 1678-1679. The type continued to be struck at the Madras mint until the introduction of the star pagoda in 1740. Many varieties occur and they circulated under several names. A similar piece was in the Dr. Lawrence Brent collection (Spink-Taisei Sale 9, lot 605).

1980*

Madras Presidency, Indian Style Coinage, Hindu System, Gold pagoda, circa 1781, Struck at Negapatam mint for district of Tanjore (3.39 grams), obv. single standing deity (probably Vishnu?), rev. granulated (cf. Pr. 2; KM. -; Scholten p.139, the discussion under type No. 1228). Uncirculated and extremely rare.

$600

Ex Spink & Son London, June 23, 1978 by private purchase and Colin E. Pitchfork Collection, Noble Numismatics sale 48 (lot 1981). The issue is said to have been struck under authority of a certain Captain Scott of Tanjore after the British captured Negapatam in 1781. It thus became known as "Scott's Pagoda" or Iskat-Pagoda. The obverse of the rude representation of a single standing deity is derived from the Negapatam issues of the Dutch struck after 1662, which in itself is derived from a Vijayanagar prototype. Pridmore did not recognise the type but is known in India as the Iskat-Pagoda. Scholten notes the fineness of these pagodas as 0.625 - 0.635. The Dr. Lawrence Brent specimen struck from the same or very similar dies (lot 616) realised US$1100 in Spink-Taisei sale 9.

1981*

Madras Presidency, Indian style coinage, Hindu system, gold pagoda circa 1691-1807, Vishnu and his two wives standing full length, reverse granulated (Pr.3A). Extremely fine.

1982*

Madras Presidency, Indian Style coinage, Hindu System, Gold pagoda, circa 1740-1807, struck at Fort St. George (Madras) mint (3.445 grams), obv. three standing half figure deities (representing Vishnu as Venkatesvara and his two wives, Sridevi and Bhudevi), rev. granulated (Pr.3B, KM. 304). Uncirculated and rare.

$250

Ex Glendining's London, July 16, 1975 (lot 79), with old ticket and Colin E. Pitchfork Collection, Noble Numismatics sale 48 (lot 1982). The issues commenced about 1691 with three full facing figures but in 1740 the style changed to three half figures, similar to the star pagoda. The Pridmore specimen (lot 349) in extremely fine realised £130.

1983*

Madras Presidency, Indian Style coinage, Hindu System, Gold star pagoda, circa 1740-1807, struck at Madras mint (3.374 grams), obv. crude half standing figure of a deity, rev. five pointed star within dotted borders (Pr.9, KM.303). Extremely fine, scarce.

$250

Ex T. V. Holland Collection and Noble Numismatics sale 62 (lot 902). The design for this coinage was determined in 1740 and declared the standard pagoda of Madras on 9th April 1741. Referred to in the Company's records as the "the Madras current or star pagoda".

Madras Presidency, Indian Style coinage, Hindu System, Gold star pagoda, circa 1740-1807, struck at Madras mint (3.31 grams), obv. crude half standing figure of a deity, rev. five pointed star within dotted borders (Pr. 9, KM. 303). Extremely fine, scarce.
