AUSTRALIAN SHIPWRECK COINS

The following ten lots were discovered in shipwrecks off the Western Australian coast by Alan (Ellis) Robinson an underwater explorer. The Western Australian government introduced legislation to prevent Robinson benefitting from his discoveries. Robinson challenged the legislation in the High Court of Australia which held that the Western Australian Government did not have the power to create that legislation. The legislation was then passed at Federal level.

The 'Vergulde Draeck' or 'Gilt Dragon' ship was wrecked off the coast of Western Australia, on a reef about 12km south of Ledge Point and 120 km north of Perth, on April 28, 1656. The ship contained 193 crew and goods worth 106,400 florins and silver worth 78,600 florins. The wreck was discovered in the 1960s and coins were recovered. The 'Zuytdorp' from the Dutch East India Company left the Netherlands on 1 August 1711 for the port of Batavia in Indonesia with newly minted silver coins amongst its cargo. The ship was wrecked on a remote part of the Western Australian coastline between Kalbarri and Shark Bay about 40km north of the Murchison River. The coins are registered as required by law and given certificates of authenticity. Purchasers are required to provide to the Western Australian Maritime Museum a completed 'Notification of Transfer of Possession' (available from Noble Numismatics Pty Ltd).

AUSTRALIAN HISTORICAL MEDALS

653*

Captain James Cook, memorial medal, undated, in bronze (43mm), by L.Pingo for the Royal Society in 1784 (BHM 258; Eimer 780; MH 374). Some mint red, a few small tone spots and light rubbing on high spots, otherwise good extremely fine.

$750

654*

Convict token, 1825, being a shaved Great Britain 1797 cartwheel penny size coin, inscribed on one side, 'Fredrick/Morgan cast/For Death/april 8 and/respited/June 14/1825', and on the other side, 'When/this you see/remember, me/when I am/bound in/Slavery'. Holed near edge for wearing, very fine and rare.

$8,000

Frederick Morgan was convicted of theft in London in 1825 and sentenced to Life Imprisonment from Middlesex Goal and transported to Australia at age 17. On 22 August 1825 he departed England on the transport ship, Marquis of Hastings, loaded with 152 male convicts and arrived at Sydney on 3 January 1826. After receiving a Ticket of Leave he worked as a tailor in Sydney and later a publican at the Spread Eagle Inn at Bathurst and then Tenterfield. He received a Conditional Pardon in 1846. In 1851 he married Emma Woodward and they had 16 children. Frederick Morgan died of bronchitis on 25 May 1886 at Morganville, Randwick at age 79. Three of his sons, Frederick, Edwin and Thomas were members of the syndicate created in 1882 that was responsible for the development of a gold mine at Ironstone Mountain near Rockhampton, Queensland. In October 1886 the syndicate became the Mount Morgan Gold Mining Company which went on to become one of the most productive gold mining companies in the world.

Convict token, 1833, being a shaved Great Britain 1797 cartwheel penny size coin, stipple inscribed on one side, 'Mary . Ives/Aged/22 Years/Transportd/For 14/years/1833', and upset to 9 o'clock on the other side, 'Sarah . Bacon/When/This.You/See.Remembr/Me.Though.I/Am . Far/Away'. Very fine and rare.

$6,000

Mary Ives was convicted in 1833 at Norfolk, Norwich Quarter Session and sentenced to 14 years. She was transported on the ship Numa which departed 3 December 1833 and arrived in NSW on 13 June 1834 with 138 female convicts on board. There is a gravestone for Sarah Bacon aged 71 years in Norwich, England dated 24 February 1871. It is assumed this was Mary's sister.

657*

School medal, 1848, in silver being a plain disc fitted into a raised edge frame (42.5mm), with a suspension loop, obverse inscribed in running script in the centre, '1st Class,/Matilda White,/June 13th' and in upright figures, '1848.', and around the edge in running script, 'The future recollection will be pleasing', on the reverse in the centre is inscribed in running script, 'Learning/is sometimes bitter,/but its fruit/is sweet.'. Cleaned, otherwise fine.

$100

Possibly attributable to Rev Mr White who arrived in Tasmania in September 1838. He was an educator and in 1848 he was sub-warden of Launceston Grammar School and in June 1848 he was appointed sub-warden of Christ's College, Tasmania. As no school is mentioned on the medal above, it is possible that Rev White, who had at least two children, gave the medal to his daughter when she commenced 1st Class.

656*

Convict related, Richmond General Penitentiary, Male Convict Third Class identity tag or pass, in brass (38.5mm) (D&W-) for use in the gaol in Ireland which was an alternative to transportation. Pierced at top for wear, very fine, unpublished and possibly unique.

$3,000

Richmond General Penitentiary was a prison established in 1820 at Grangegorman, Dublin, Ireland as an alternative to transportation. It and another prison in London, England, namely Millbank Penitentiary, were the first prisons in the United Kingdom at the time to specialise in trying to reform prisoners rather than punish them. This process included a combination of solitary confinement, hard labour and religious instruction.

The Richmond prison consisted of three leading classes of men, and the same number of females, each class being separated into three divisions, forming eighteen in total. On committal prisoners were placed in First Class in which they were wholly excluded from society being obliged to remain by day and night and to work in their respective cells that were large enough to admit a loom being erected in each. After a period in this class, prisoners were advanced to the Second Class in which they were kept in separate cells by night being allowed during the day to work in small divisions. After a proper period at this level prisoners were advanced to Third Class where further intermixing was allowed and at night slept in larger cells with three beds to each. The type of work carried out by male prisoners was tailoring, shoe-making and weaving as well as repairs and cleaning of the prison building and yards. Female prisoners did washing, needle-work and knitting. However, the rehabilitation experiment was a failure and in 1831 Richmond ceased to be a prison.

Between 1840 and the 1880s Richmond, which then was known as Grangegorman, was also used as a depot for women and children subject to transportation to Van Diemen's Land. Most of the women ended up at the Cascades Female Factory in Hobart. In 1897 the Richmond prison building ownership changed and it became the Richmond District Lunatic Asylum.

658*

New South Wales - South Australia - Victoria, River Murray Steam Navigation and Commerce, 1853, in bronze (77mm) struck in England by the Royal Mint (L.C.Wyon)(C.1853/1). Edge bruise at 2 o'clock and small edge knock at 11 o'clock on reverse, nearly extremely fine and extremely rare.

$10,000

Three gold medals were struck one for each of the following, Captain Francis Cadell, the Governor Sir Henry Fox Young and one to be held with records of the Legislature of South Australia. None of these gold medals seem to have survived. Less than six of the original bronze medals have been recorded.

On Wednesday 4 August 1858 the Port Phillip Farmers Society held a ploughing match at Bulla with 18 teams entered. In the ploughing with bullocks match for boys under 18, the winner was William Dewar ploughing for his father, Mr John Dewar.

On Wednesday 22 June 1859 the second annual ploughing match for the Gisborne Branch of the Port Phillip Farmers Society was held at Mr Campbell's farm situated between Gisborne and Riddel's Creek. The land had not been broken up previously and this tested both men and animals. Once again, William Dewar, ploughing for his father, was the winner of the boys under 18 class.

Intercolonial Exhibition, Victoria, 1866-67, in gilded bronze (220mm), uniface electrotpe by C.Summers, special presentation award inscribed in exergue, 'Presented/To The/Honble S.H.Bindon. M.P. Commissioner.', mounted in a wooden frame with glass cover. Some age spotting and hairlines, otherwise extremely fine and scarce, possibly unique.

This is a scarce variety of the medallion in that it is gilded and also in the naming area in the exergue it is engraved on a plain surface whereas the bronze award medallions have the words, 'Medal Awarded To' die struck in relief above a recessed panel in this area and the recipient's name is die struck in relief inside the panel. The artist, Charles Summers, kept a gilt version of the medal but the bottom legend is slightly different and the top lettering is primitive.

Samuel Henry Bindon, as well as being the moving force behind the 1866-67 Intercolonial Exhibition at Melbourne, was also a Member of Parliament in the State of Victoria, the Minister of Justice in 1866, Chief Judge of Gippsland in 1869, appointed to the Chair of the Technological Commission in 1869 and in 1879 head of the Royal Commission for Penal and Prison Reform. He died on 1 August 1879.

With extensive research.

At West Maitland, on Monday 30 June 1876 in the coffee room of Fullford's Family Hotel the subscribers to a testimonial to Sub Inspector Thomas Kerrigan gathered to witness the presentation. The testimonial included the address printed below, which had been beautifully decorated by Mr. W. W. Arndell, and nicely framed and a very handsome gold watch, hunting case, to which was attached a massive albert guard with cornelian key. To the guard also was hanging a heavy dull-gold medal, made to the order of the subscribers by Mr. Snow, of West Maitland, and bearing on one side the inscription, 'Presented to Sub-inspector Thomas Kerrigan, by the residents of the district of Maitland, as a mark of esteem', and on the other side, 'June 30 1876'. On the inner case of the watch, the following words were engraved, 'Presented to Sub-inspector Thomas Kerrigan, by the residents of the district of Maitland, as a mark of esteem. 30th June, 1876'. There was also an oaken case, containing a complete dessert set. The watch, chain, and dessert set were purchased by the committee from Messrs. B. Griffiths and Son, of West Maitland.

The Mayor, Mr H.S.Badgery, presided over the gathering and the testimonial address details were as follows,

Dear Sir- We regret to hear that the Government of New South Wales have transferred the sphere of your labours as an officer in the Police Department of the colony, to Port Macquarie, and we take advantage of the occasion to present you with the accompanying testimonial as conveying as faint proof of the esteem and regard in which you are held as a citizen and an officer.

During twenty-three years of eminent and zealous service amongst us, we have ever observed in you those qualities which would endear you to us as a friend, and command our respect and admiration for you in your responsible public position. We have found that you have ever taken a broad, intelligent, and comprehensive view of your duties; and whilst remembering the claims of your office, you have never forgotten those gentler claims which entitle you to the name of gentleman; and we have no hesitation in saying that you have occupied the rare position of being a terror to evildoers, and of obtaining the respect of both the evil and the good.

We feel that your departure from amongst us will be experienced as a loss by all classes of this community; and while congratulating you on your deserved promotion, we cannot forget that we are being deprived of the presence of one who has rendered this colony good service. We wish you and your respected family all health, prosperity, and happiness, wheresoever God in his Good Providence may cast your lots.

Yours faithfully,

(A number of gentlemen had appended their signatures to the address.)

The proceedings were brought to a close by the company singing a verse of the National Anthem.

In March 1866 Senior Sergeant Thomas Kerrigan, his rank at the time, arrested Mary Ann Bugg, the bushranger Captain Thunderbolt's wife and accomplice and as she titled herself, 'the Captain's Lady', charging her with vagrancy. He took her to Stroud Police Station where she was tried, convicted and sentenced to 6-months imprisonment at Maitland Goal.

The third annual sports of the South Australian Caledonian Society took place at Adelaide oval on Monday 14 April 1884 with about 9,000 in attendance including His Excellency the Governor Sir W.C.F.Robinson KCMG with his two daughters and his Aide-de-Camp. Among the sports was cycling. At the opening, 54 bicycles paraded representing the clubs of South Australia, Ariel, North Adelaide and Norwood.

The bicycle events excited the crowd the most. The Champion mile event with eight competitors caused great excitement and the final heat resulted in a magnificent contest between W.Tyler and H.Tregonning. Heat one was a dead heat and W.Tyler won the final by a narrow margin. However, the three and five miles handicap races, which were for one prize, resulted in another keen contest between Tyler and Tregonning. Ten cyclists competed on handicap. The first event was won by H.Tregonning (50 yds) from W.Tyler (scr) and T.Atkins (150 yds) in third place. The second event was won by T.Atkins (370 yds), who had a good handicap start, from H.Tregonning (90 yds) with W.Tyler (Scr) third. The competition was points based, so Tregonning (9 pts) was first, Atkins (8 pts) second and Tyler (7 pts) third.

Prizes for the day's events were distributed in the evening by Mrs Allan Campbell, wife of the Chief of the South Australian Caledonian Society, at a social gathering at the Adelaide Town Hall.

In June 1899 Charles Hall, butcher of Mildura, sought a divorce from his wife, Jane Hall, on the grounds of misconduct with a young man named Wilson, and a decree nisi was granted. Subsequently the Attorney-General intervened and instructed the Crown-Solicitor to apply for a rehearing of the case. At the hearing Wilson admitted that his story about intimacy with the respondent was trumped up and that he had been paid by the petitioner to tell it to the court. At the close of the petitioner's case Mr Justice Hood said the story by the petitioner was full of contradictions and absurdities. His case was made up of conspiracy, fraud and perjury, which, had the court been aware of, the decree nisi would never have been granted. He would commit Bornholm (one of the witnesses) and Hall for perjury, would set aside the decree nisi, with costs against petitioner, and he strongly recommended that an inquiry be instituted to see if there was sufficient evidence to prefer a charge of conspiracy. The two men were committed for trial.

The series of cases were sensational at the time with Mildura's first policeman, Senior Constable Ambrose Beaumont Carter being instrumental in investigating.

The Teams Rifle Match was held at Randwick Rifle Range between teams of twenty shooters selected from members of the US Fleet and the National Rifle Association Council Teams. The NRA team was selected on the basis that the event was more of a social occasion than a serious event and as well, the American sharp pointed bullet was used which reacted differently to wind variations and required less elevation at 600 yards, thus putting the Australian team at a disadvantage. The US Fleet team won the event 1884 to 1755. After the event a dinner was held at the rifle range and medals were distributed. All medals were bronze with a total of 40 issued, one to each team member.

The 150th Anniversary Rifle Meeting of the NRA of NSW was held at Anzac Rifle Range, Liverpool finishing up on Saturday 12 February 1938. It was the largest rifle meeting held in the Empire up to that time and also the largest sporting event held in Australia. Mr H.B.Jamieson was Chairman of the Council of the NRA. He was appointed Commandant of the Australian Team to compete in the Empire Match against leading shooters from Great Britain, South Africa and New Zealand in February 1938.

Mr Jamieson died on 28 October 1947 after serving continuously for 41 years as a member of the NRA council, being Chairman from 1929-1947. He represented NSW as a delegate to the Commonwealth Council of Rifle Associations from 1927 until his death. In 1938 Jamieson House, at Anzac Rifle Range Liverpool was opened in his honour. In 1939 he was awarded an MBE for his services to rifle shooting in Australia. In 1968 Anzac Rifle Range closed and a new Jamieson House was opened at Long Bay Rifle Range, Malabar and became the new office for the NSW Rifle Association (renamed from NRA of NSW).

STAMPS

Brian Maloney was born in Sydney in 1942. He is a Surrealist painter who paints in oils and acrylic but also does watercolours and murals. He studied at the Julian Ashton Art School in Sydney under Kevin Oxley and he later worked in a commercial screen printing company for some years.

In the 1970's, as part of his artistic training, he travelled widely through Europe and the Middle East.

He has held several one-man exhibitions at the Holdsworth Gallery, Woollahra in Sydney in 1974, Proud's Art Gallery in 1976 and 1978, the Centrepoint Gallery in 1977 and at several other exhibitions.

His work is well represented in private collections in Australia and overseas. Also, his murals are represented in the National Aquarium, ACT in 1989; Manly Ocean World in 1992; Taronga Park Zoo, Manly Wharf and Heron Island Resort in 1993.

He commenced collecting stamps and coins as a hobby in the early 1970s, concentrating on the artistic aspects of design on stamps and coins. His illustrations of stamps from Great Britain and Australia appear on several of the pages of this collection and some of these illustrative efforts are shown on sheets of his stamp collection below. His attraction to FDC's followed this theme and several of his FDC's, included in this collection, are of his own artistic effort.
